Blizzard Bags and Community Partnerships!

In our November newsletter the Support and Guidance page addressed the importance of emergency preparedness by assembling a kit of non-perishable food items, just in case there is inclement weather with a loss of power. PSRC provides ongoing social service support to Princeton Housing Authority residents. We are proud to have partnered with several local organizations to provide what we call “blizzard bags” for 100 residents in Spruce Circle and Redding Circle. There were more than 1,800 items donated for the bags.

The generous donations came from the following supporters:
- Calloway Henderson/Sotheby’s Realty: beautiful canvas bags to hold all the donated items
- Princeton University Dining Services: individual cartons (boxed) water
- McCaffrey’s Princeton: tuna in pouches
- Arm In Arm: a generous donation of Glucerna shakes, granola bars, a cookie treat, and peanut butter crackers. (information about the community services that are provided by this non-profit were included in the blizzard bags and highlighted below)
- Johnson & Johnson Consumer Inc.: a team of 6 employees (see p. 12) collected many food items including fruit cups, juice, tuna, and pudding. For several hours these employees worked tirelessly to assemble the items into the 100 bags. After that task, they went door to door delivering the bags to the appreciative residents. This team made it all look so easy with their wonderful attitudes, high energy, and thoughtful participation. They left our community room at Spruce Circle spotless before they went to their own full-time jobs. It was a pleasure working with them!

Community Highlight

Arm In Arm’s mission is to be a place where community comes together to make sure all people have the most basic needs of food and shelter and, as possible, the livelihood to maintain them. Arm In Arm’s food pantry in Princeton receives 200 visits per month and families receive a three days’ supply of food when they visit. Homelessness prevention services, including emergency financial assistance for back rent, utilities, mortgage, and security deposits are some of their programs. A Community Service Block Grant case manager helps low-income Princeton residents to stabilize housing, increase food security, and connect to needed services. A partnership with Send Hunger Packing Princeton provides food for families of students at John Witherspoon Middle School.

MEN IN RETIREMENT — NO MEETING

WOMEN IN RETIREMENT — “HEART HEALTH FOR WOMEN”
Friday, January 18 at 10:30 a.m.
Heart disease is the #1 killer of American women. The incidence of heart disease increases as a woman ages. The challenge is that women may often experience symptoms that are different from those experienced in men. It is important for women to understand their unique symptoms of heart disease and to learn ways to reduce their risk of cardiovascular disease in the future.
Dr. Lisa Monahan is board certified in echocardiography, nuclear cardiology, vascular interpretation, and internal medicine at Capital Health. All are welcome.
TRANSITION TO RETIREMENT

Friday, January 18 at 3:00 p.m.

This group addresses many kinds of issues that can arise during the transition to retirement. The group is facilitated by John George, PhD, licensed psychologist, and Dave Roussell, MSEd, MSW, LSW, PSRC Care Coordinator and HomeFriends Coordinator.

YOUR ENGAGED RETIREMENT: LEGAL AND ESTATE PLANNING WITH FIONA VAN DYCK

Monday, January 28 at 7:00 p.m.

Princeton Public Library in the Newsroom

(PSRC and the Princeton Public Library are co-sponsoring this series of free lectures on a wide array of retirement issues.)

Legal and Estate Planning: what you need to know about estate and long-term care planning in these turbulent times. Fiona Van Dyck, Esquire, will discuss what legal documents you need to have now to protect yourself and your family. Fiona has over 20 years of experience practicing law. She dedicates Van Dyck Law to assisting individuals and families in formulating estate plans, protecting the interests of a disabled or elderly family member, and probating the will of a deceased loved one. She is also a member of the Board of Trustees of PRSC.

NEXT YOUR ENGAGED RETIREMENT:

LOOKING AHEAD

THE MARVELOUS MRS. MAISEL - SEASON 1

Tuesdays & Thursdays: February 5, 7, 12, 14, 1:00–3:00 p.m.

Join us for this outstanding Emmy winning series—2 shows each day and if you miss one, we’ll keep you on track with episode summaries. It’s the late 1950s and Miriam Maisel has everything she has ever wanted—the perfect husband, two kids, and an elegant apartment on New York’s Upper West Side. Her seemingly idyllic life takes a surprising turn when she discovers a hidden talent she didn’t previously know she had—stand-up comedy. This revelation changes her life forever as she begins a journey that takes her from her comfortable life on the Upper West Side through the cafes and nightclubs of Greenwich Village as she makes her way through the city’s comedy industry on a path that could ultimately lead her to a spot on the Tonight Show couch. Registration required, no fee.

ALL CLASSES ARE HELD AT THE SUZANNE PATTERSON BUILDING UNLESS NOTED
Do You Know Your Spouse’s Passwords?

An article in the October 2018 edition of the AARP Bulletin, “Left Alone—and at a Loss,” tells the story of a husband who suddenly dies, leaving his widow without the passwords to the family’s online financial accounts and services.

Last year, a good friend of mine lost her husband to cancer. He kept a “paperless” home office, banked online, set up their credit cards to pay the bills, had his own accounts with Microsoft and Apple, and subscribed to software and magazines. Unfortunately, his wife didn’t know the ID’s and passwords to any of these accounts—or to his computers, smart phone, and multiple tablets. After the funeral, she couldn’t access their online financial records or even use her husband’s computer. It took weeks of phone calls and letters to regain access to the online accounts she knew about, and longed to figure out—and turn off—the services her husband had used.

This could have been avoided had this couple shared their ID’s and passwords, not only with each other, but with their grown children and close siblings.

But how? You shouldn’t keep your ID’s and passwords in a notebook that could be lost or stolen, and you’ll never keep up with entering new and modified passwords. Instead, I recommend keeping this information on your and your spouse’s computers, but if, and only if, your computers require a login password when you turn them on. You should also enter the security questions that some online sites require, such as your dog’s name or where you were born. (You don’t have to buy a dog; the website won’t know that your dog, Bob, is really your husband.)

You can enter all this information in a spreadsheet or a text document, or use the “notes” app. You can also let your browser keep your passwords, but make sure you can reveal them in the browser’s settings.

A better way to share your IDs and passwords is with a password manager. I use 1Password, but there are many others. Password managers encrypt and store your information on their servers and let you designate who can view your IDs and passwords. In my case, my wife and son can view each other’s passwords on all our devices. 1Password also stores our credit card information, social security account numbers, passport ID’s, insurance account information, and other sensitive information, such as our dog’s name (Bob). Password managers keep track of ID and Password changes automatically, and suggest new, secure, passwords when you set up new online accounts.

Most password managers charge an annual fee, but I think it’s well worth the cost.

If you need help setting up a password manager, stop by the PSRC Technology Lab on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. or Fridays from 10:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.

PERSON-CENTERED CARE

It seems that we hear this term everywhere this year. What does it mean? The SCAN Foundation, defines person-centered care as a philosophy putting older adults “at the center of the decision-making process” by making use of a care team “that considers the full range of needs of individuals and their families.” Research has found that involving people in their care improves outcomes. Good person-centered care includes having access to healthcare professionals whenever you have questions, and being able to get to the treatment that has been recommended, as well as addressing the barriers to care. It means considering all the parts of your individual situation and choices, not treating you just like everyone else. How well does your medical office provide person-centered care?

When seeking residential care, ask whether care is person-centered and how this is experienced in daily living. For example, are meals, bedtimes and activities arranged to fit the person’s preferences or are they scheduled for everyone together?

THANK YOU TO OUR BLIZZARD BAG PARTNERS

“What a lovely morning of giving back to community. [We] packed over 100 blizzard bags, and delivered to seniors. It was absolutely humbling and priceless to see the joy on their face as we wished them a very festive season and happy holidays. Best of all, super duper time with the team.”

Did you know you can support PSRC all year long by bringing us your McCaffrey’s receipts? They can be up to 3 months old. PSRC receives a percentage of the total receipts.

DONATIONS & SUPPORT

The Princeton Community’s generosity is amazing! We would like to thank the following groups/organizations for their support of PSRC and the seniors we serve.

• Stark and Stark had a fundraiser to benefit PSRC at their holiday party. In order to “dress down” employees brought a donation. The donations included gift cards and hundreds of personal care items for the seniors.

• During their annual Holiday Party, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Italian American Sportmen’s Club of Princeton collected many gift wrapped items for those in need instead of exchanging gifts with each other.

• PSRC Knits Wits Group at Spruce Circle knitted many items throughout the year to benefit local charities such as: Princeton Nursery School, Arm in Arm, Anchor House, Better Beginnings child care center, and Project Linus. We couldn't do all that without the donations of yarn we receive from individuals and organizations like Pins and Needles and the Princeton University Graduate School - Student Life and Princeton University of Community and Regional Affairs.

DECEMBER CELEBRATIONS

PSRC’s Annual Holiday Party was a great success! To view photos of the holiday party festivities, as well as Susan’s Farewell Open House, visit us on Flickr: https://www.flickr.com/photos/psrc/albums/.

Princeton Honors Susan Hoskins
Princeton Council honored Susan Hoskins at their meeting on December 17, 2018. Read the Town Topics article (page 10) for more details. Also, a feature article about Susan’s retirement on page 8 of same issue.
